

Robin Burrows

BMus Hons

Guitar Tutor

Instruments

Electric and Acoustic Guitar

Biography

Robin started playing guitar at the age of 16. He was inspired originally by blues rock guitarists such as Angus Young, Jimi Hendrix and Peter Green. He then enrolled on the popular music degree course at The Guitar Institute in London. He studied under the jazz/metal fusion pioneer, Shaun Baxter and other respected guitarists such as Lee Hodgson, Martin Goulding and Ian Scott, all of whom are contributors to The Guitar Technique Magazine. While studying at the Guitar institute, Robin was fortunate enough to have private lessons with Shaun Baxter and Martin Goulding over a period of four years. These lessons further developed his advanced guitar technique. Due to his outstanding playing ability, Robin was chosen to represent The Guitar Institute and Peavey Amplification at the National Guitar Shows. He is continually developing his own style which comprises, amongst other things, of using elements of jazz harmony and advanced rock techniques.

Interests and Hobbies

Robin likes to keep active by playing a number of sports such as golf, cricket and tennis. Robin also likes to go fishing.

Something you won't know

Robin's version of 'Led Boots' ended up in the Rock and Roll hall of Fame in Cleveland!

Professional Performance Work

Session guitarists for many function bands and a BBC session guitarists for Jamiroquai

Teaching Experience

Your Music School private guitar tuition to guitar institute students Guitar Masterclasses Online guitar tuition Private Guitar tuition at his studio

Contact

